Notes on Module Feedback

In the 'Core Likert-Scale Questions' section you will find your students' answers to the university's core survey statements. You will also see responses to School-level Likert scale questions, if these are in use in your area.

In the 'Free Text Comments' section you will find the comments left by your students for each question. If one or more questions do not appear, this means that no students answered these.

Reports are for internal use only. Module Leaders can, at their discretion, share the report with colleagues such as those on teaching teams, Programme Leaders, DSEs, or those from whom they wish to seek support. Please be aware, however, that student comments are not redacted and may contain sensitive information. This data must not be re-used beyond its intended purposes (eg. to identify areas of concern for students, to promote best practice, to monitor quality, and drive quality enhancement).

The teachers are all very kind and patient. They listen carefully to the students' answers and then offer their own insights. This course has taught me a lot.
I absolutely love the part in class discussions where everyone stays quiet pretending to be experts, but actually knows nothing at all
The module is very great, covering a large area of capital markets
the law of banking
Instructors are nice.
This has been my favourite module throughout my time as a student, not just one of the best, but truly the very best.
The teacher is very patient to answer the academic questions perfect
Capital and debt markets in UK
This module is well-organised and immersive.
I loved how the lecturers were specialised in this field and how the information was disseminated, especially during the seminars, which were extremely interactive.

nothing
Teachers could guide students to speak up more in class.
The thing that I would like to improve is the timing, because the module covers a lot of area, so there's no time for the lecturer to explain it in more detail in some parts where they should Everything is good.
Too difficult for me.
Nothing could be improved

More seminars because I really liked
Time was a significant factor. Given how broad the course is, I feel additional time was needed to properly engage with both the material and the lecturers.

I commend the team for a job well done. Although this was a new area of study for me, I thoroughly enjoyed the learning experience.
